

Research Associate/Postdoctoral Fellow
Genome-wide characterization of ubiquitination in plant-microbe interactions
Department of Biology

A full-time Postdoctoral Research Associate position is available in the Biology Department at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock to characterize at genome-scale the roles of ubiquitination, particularly E2 ubiquitin-conjugating enzymes in plant immunity.

Required Qualifications: Candidates must have a PhD degree in plant biology, plant pathology or a closely related discipline, have research experience in molecular host-microbe interactions as well as good writing/oral communication skills, and possess a record of significant peer-reviewed publications. A highly motivated candidate with research background in genomics, or ubiquitination system or protein biochemistry is desirable.

To apply for this position send a letter of application (referencing Position P98209), a statement of research interests and a CV including the names of three references with contact information to: University of Arkansas at Little Rock, ATTN: Kristi Wright, Finance Coordinator, Graduate Institute of Technology, 2801 S. University Ave., Little Rock, AR 72204. Applications can be electronically submitted to gitpositions@ualr.edu or faxed to (501)569-8039. The subject line should reference Position P98209. Direct all technical inquiries to Dr. Zeng (<http://ualr.edu/biology/>), lxzeng@ualr.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to a pre-employment criminal background check. A criminal conviction or arrest pending adjudication alone shall not disqualify an applicant in the absence of a relationship to the requirements of the position. Criminal background checks will be used in a confidential, non-discriminatory manner consistent with state and federal law.

The University of Arkansas at Little Rock is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and actively seeks the candidacy of women, minorities and individuals with disabilities.
